ROCKING FIRST RESPONDERS!

Shell on Wheels is a band that's floundering. Their guppy leader, Pip, plays video games with his catfish buddy, Darnell, rather than writing songs. And their lyricist, Molly the molly fish, is more inspired to doodle than sing. So, when the music festival Coach-Shella is having a battle of the bands that could change their lives, they kick into high gear to get there... if only they had the money for tickets!

Molly's stepdad, a sea horse doctor, is paying medical interns at the local hospital. This sounds great, until they realize they'll actually have to learn to be first responders! Using their musical skills, they realize they can learn by writing songs! Now if they could just keep Meg the shark from getting to Coach-Shella things would be fin-tastic!
